Vision Statement
April 2023

In the City of Biddeford, the future beckons us. We recognize that we are but one small part of our Earth and that living sustainably in the natural world reaps many benefits. We respect that the environment requires stewardship, not dominance, and so we ensure that nature coexists harmoniously with humanity. Beyond our modern urbanized areas are wide verdant expanses accessible for all to enjoy. The air in our city is clean, the water is pure and healthy food is abundant for everyone.

Biddeford has always relied on the natural world for its prosperity, and we continue to do this through systems that not only provide us with safety and comfort, but protect the resilience of the environment rather than compounding climate change vulnerabilities.

We rely on renewable energy that does not add to our carbon footprint. Green transportation is provided to all members of the community through many mass transit options using carbon neutral technology. We continue to develop affordable housing that uses renewable energy resources for heating, cooling and power.

Our community is resilient. With fairness and equity, we ensure that there is a place for everyone in Biddeford's future. We create thriving inclusive neighborhoods. At its foundation, our community adapts to changes in our climate, providing new opportunities for everyone, now and for future generations.
